

Dear Sirs:

This document will address the experience I had working with Bright Built Homes building a wheelchair accessible home. I was afraid to start this process because my lack of knowledge of the building process and my fear of making bad decisions. At my first meeting with David Bright most of my fears disappeared because I was educated about what would happen during the building process and how a team of professionals would work with me to make correct decisions.

During the building of my home I made many visits to the building site with the builder, David Bright, and alone. I was able to watch my home being built and talk with the workers. I was impressed with their workmanship and willingness to discuss with me what they were working on and the projects they would be working on in the future. When I moved into my new home I was awed bt how a team of professionals had taken my less than educated ideas and transformed them into a very usable and beautiful home. Many visitors to my house have commented on the solid workmanship and the choice of colors.

I would highly recommend Bright Built Homes and the team that David Bright has assembled after more than twenty years in the building business.
